Coronavirus global response

The European Union is joining forces with France, Germany, the United Kingdom, Norway and Saudi Arabia to kick-start a global pledging effort – the Coronavirus global response – starting on 4 May 2020. President von der Leyen will invite Heads of State and Government, as well as additional partners from across the world to pledge to help reach the target of €7.5 billion in initial funding. The funds will help develop and deploy effective diagnostics, treatments and a vaccine which are universally available and affordable. Practical details here

Indeed... but for us in Slovenia the results matter a lot... the restrictions are being lifted step-by-step daily ... Thank you for pointing this out and spreading the #Slovenian #story. #covid #TogetherWeKnow

Second day with 0 measured new infections in Slovenia thanks to the super disciplined efforts of every Citizen. Such a pity that the Government and Media are not able to get this positive development known to the world in order to stimulate our businesses and future tourism. Instead they are captured in a secondary battlefield around purchasing of PPE equipment. Decisions for future suppliers by foreign investors, but also travelling & tourism will be heavily influenced by the judgement how "safe" one will feel in a destination. Communicating the positive development in Slovenia would be so essential for an enhanced "Destination Branding" of the country.

Danes se je na sklic predsednika vlade Janeza Janše sestel Svet za nacionalno varnost.

Minister za zunanje zadeve dr. Anže Logar je danes v imenu Slovenije sodeloval na virtualnem donatorskem dogodku pod pokroviteljstvom Evropske komisije, namenjenem skupnemu globalnemu odzivu na Covid-19. Napovedal je, da bo Slovenija za iskanje zdravih, cepiva in izboljšanje diagnostike v boju proti Covid-19 prispevala 13.760.000 evrov.
